

--	--

Students will understand the connections between proportional relationships, lines and linear equations. They will encounter the slope of a line by interpreting the rate of change in its graph (constant of proportionality). They will compare proportional relationships in different ways (i.e., graphs, tables, equations or descriptions). Using their knowledge of similar triangles, students will make a connection between unit rate and the

DRAFT

DRAFT

